

Brain-Based Therapy

This is therapy that helps to retrain a patient's brain in order to combat things like poor balance and if the patient has had a stroke. It involves eye glasses with blinking lights, and headphones with certain sounds that stimulate the brain and allow it to be retrained.

